

NACO'S FUTURE VERY BRIGHT

CITIZENS ARE FULL OF ENTHUSIASM AND ENERGY

The Town Was Visited Yesterday by a Review Representative Who Gives Some Impressions Received There

"Naco is bound to be the largest port of entry into old Mexico," said one of her leading merchants yesterday, "and you will see the wisdom of this statement at no far distant day." The citizens of Naco impress the visitor with their industry and the supreme faith they have in their town. No one can go to Naco and engage the people there in a five minute conversation without gaining some new idea of the possibilities of the future of the border town and leave firmly convinced that as long as the great copper camp at Cananea and the famous Copper Queen at Bisbee succeed and flourish, Naco must of necessity thrive and continue to grow.

In addition to the location that Naco has as a port of entry into Mexico, it is extremely fortunate in having an excellent townsite, being as level as a floor. She has good conservative business men who are energetic and have the "go."

The mercantile houses at Naco compare very favorably with like ones in cities very much larger and upon comparison of prices make a favorable showing. The Southwestern Mercantile company, the Aguirre Mercantile company, the Emporium Mercantile company, and others are among the well known business firms of Naco and all are doing a big business.

The mighty impetus which strikes life into every business avenue of this town is the immense freight and transportation that continually passes through into old Mexico and from Mexico into the United States. One can hardly realize the mighty traffic that surges to and fro through this gateway. There is not, indeed, the amount of business done here that there was before the railroad was constructed into the Cananea, but the character of the business which now prevails is considered of an entirely stable and lasting nature.

And one is surprised at the steady growth of the town. Everywhere new residences and business houses are going up. A beautiful opera house 46x106 feet, has just been completed and adds much to the town. This means that the best talent that comes into this section will visit Naco. This opera house has all the latest conveniences, having sixteen office rooms on the second floor. J. B. O'Reilly and J. Madden are owners of this new building.

W. A. White has just completed his big adobe, having three large store rooms on the first floor and a fine hall 40x60 on the second floor. This provides the town with an excellent hall for dances and other entertainments. The Baptists are building a large church building which will be completed in the near future. Improvements may be seen on every hand by simply looking for them.

Should the road be continued from Cananea to the gulf in the near future—and it is generally conceded that it will be—Naco will receive a new source of business that will mean very much. Should the Southern Pacific build into Naco from some point north another avenue to business will open to her which will be beneficial.

From every viewpoint this town has a bright future—location, good business men, a port of entry, a possible railroad center, all insure a thorough and healthful business life.

Naco Notes

The Naco Cafe is closed for repairs and will soon open newly and thoroughly renovated. Proprietor Abrams will at once build a large addition to the Naco hotel.

W. A. White of the Big Adobe leaves this week for the coast and Denver, then to his old home in Georgia where he will spend some months in the mountains, hoping to fully regain his health. Mr. White expects to go abroad next year. He has been in Naco for nearly two years and has erected one of the finest and most expensive business blocks in his town. He has amassed an independent fortune and has leased his entire business interests except the drug store.

James Patton, assistant manager of the Cananea store, was in Naco yesterday shaking hands with friends.

The last bull fight at Naco was the most successful one ever held there. Many say that not better was ever held in Mexico. This has become a great attraction and draws big crowds from distant points of Arizona and Sonora, Mexico. There will be a bull fight today. This bull pen is the second largest in Mexico.

Ells & Layton have newly arranged the Palms saloon and have one of the most inviting resorts of their town.

DuBois and Gilmore have leased the Big Adobe saloon and assumed management the first of August. They have opened club rooms above and placed in new games. Both proprietors are well known in Naco, having been in business elsewhere in the town.

Sid Coburn was the Naco representative to the Fitz-Jeffries fight. He placed his money right and carried off $2,000 of Fitzsimmons' money. His friends are all anxious for him to hurry back.

Naco besides having a fine base ball park will have a coursing park. F. M. Abrams has seven fine gray hounds from California and will have at least a dozen of the fleetest dogs obtainable by the first of October. This will be of great interest to the sporting fraternity.

The Review Job Printing Plant is UP-TO-DATE

If you use any printed matter in your business
it will pay you to order in large quantities

FOR THIS REASON:

After the type is set and the form made ready on the press, a printer can print you two or three thousand of the same form at a much less price per 1000 than if you only order in small lots—kind of a difference between wholesale and retail prices. This is a straight tip. If you want to save money, order 2000 of that job you want, instead of 1000. When you have made up your order bring it to
